No reason to change from this old friend now. It is still made of the best hops and malt, still brewed and aged with the same infinite care. Its taste and body-building properties remain unchanged.

You liked Private Seal in the past; it is as good as ever today.

WENTZ DEFENDS SOFT COAL INDUSTRY

Washington, Nov. 9. — Flat denial of certain statements recently emanating from the United States senate committee on reconstruction regarding the bituminous coal industry was made here tonight by President D. B. Wentz of the National Coal Association.

"A wholly wrong impression" had gone to the public through these statements, Colonel Wentz asserted in his reply, adding that the broad charge had been made that the "entire industry" had been practicing gross extortion on the whole American public.

"The senate committee asserted," he said, "that 'wrong doing has been admitted by D. B. Wentz, representing the National Coal Association,' by Commissioner Clyde B. Atchison of the Interstate Commerce Commission and Daniel Williams, representing the railroads."

No such admission has been made by me nor do I understand that any such admission has been by either of the others.

So as to put the matter straight on the record, I wish to deny emphatically that there was any wrong doing in any action taken by representatives of the National Coal Association, of the Interstate Commerce Commission or of the American Railroad Association of their agents during the coal shortage emergency to increase the production and shipments of bituminous coal.

"On the contrary the priority orders issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the action taken by the railroads and the coal producers were eminently practical and right, and have been the direct means of averting a very serious shortage of coal during the fall and winter."

The joint statement of Senators Calder and Edge gives the impression that the National Coal Association and the coal industry have done nothing up to this time to put an end to abuses which the senators attack. This impression is grossly misleading and unfair. The fact is that the National Coal Association months ago, through special committees, began an effort to eliminate various abuses that had developed during the shortage emergency with the result that, through the co-operation of other branches of the industry, they have been generally eradicated.

Had it not been for the efforts of the operators, the statement added, "the nation would now be faced with the calamitous prospect of a soft coal famine."

COLUMBIA

In the present condition of the roads under construction traveling is difficult and extended detours have to be made, and often it is necessary to obtain assistance on the cross roads to pull out teams that have become stuck in the mud or soft ground. Many loads of stone have been dumped in bad places on these little used roads to improve the traveling.

Friday a large and heavy load of furniture arrived at the Center from the East Side of New York, destined for the place recently occupied by Mark Edwards. It was found necessary to engage one of the trucks belonging to the road construction company to help tow the truck by way of the lake and over a little used cross road to its destination.

The house on Chestnut Hill formerly belonging to Antonio Gregoris was sold in the spring to William Weimar and Julius Schwartz, both occupying the house. Mr. Schwartz has sold his interest to Mr. Weimar, and will shortly leave town. One day last week a Jewish family moved out of the former home of Mark Edwards, and the same day another family moved in. There has also been considerable moving by families in town, especially near the Green.

The sermon preached by Rev. Thomas Newton Owen at the bi-centennial of the church, celebrated Oct. 24, had been printed and was distributed to the congregation Sunday.

Complaint was made before Justice Raymond E. Clarke Monday afternoon by Sule Dill Clyde against her husband, Walter Clyde, for assault, breach of the peace and intoxication. The complaint was presented by Grand Juror Dwight A. Lyman. The defendant pleaded not guilty. The prosecution testified that her husband had three bottles of beer and wine, had been drinking a great deal with his friends for the past 12 weeks, and that he struck her on the head, telling her to leave the place or he would stick a knife into her back. Mickey Danahy testified for the defense that Clyde did not say he would stick a knife in his wife's back, but that he would in him.

Clyde stated in his own behalf that his wife wanted to put him out of the house; he claimed that his wife had lots of men there every day while he was away trapping, and that he found six young men there when he came home Sunday night. He claimed that he only slapped her face. The justice found the accused guilty of assault and breach of the peace and fined him $1 and costs, amounting to $11, besides giving him 20 days in jail for assault. The jail sentence was remitted. Clyde being placed on probation.

A meeting of the school board was held at the town hall Monday evening and was attended by the supervisor of schools, Fred W. Porter. The fine arts school is rather crowded and there was a discussion regarding the accommodation of the children.

A Startling Test by One of the Greatest Experts in Modern Cookery

24½ lbs. of potatoes fried in 2 lbs. of Mazola. Only 7 lbs. 14 oz. of potatoes fried in 2 lbs. of lard

THAT Mazola is the better and more economical fat has again been demonstrated. This time by Mrs. A. Louise Andrea, admittedly one of the greatest experts in modern cookery. Mrs. Andrea proved that 2 lbs. of Mazola fried 24½ lbs. of potatoes. While 2 lbs. of lard fried only 7 lbs. 14 oz. of potatoes.

Tested with fish steaks, one inch in thickness, 2 lbs. of Mazola fried 25¼ lbs. while lard fried only 16½ lbs. of fish.

Of doughnuts cut uniformly 2¾ inches in diameter, 2 lbs. of Mazola fried 208, while 2 lbs. of lard fried only 138.

Facts and Figures Prove Remarkable Economy

This proves conclusively that Mazola goes more than three times as far as lard for frying potatoes; almost twice as far for fish; and two-thirds farther than lard in frying doughnuts.

In each test 4 lbs. of Mazola and 4 lbs. of lard were fried down to 2 lbs.

This confirms the experience of seven million housewives who already use Mazola.
